

THE ADVENTHERUS CODE

- » Adventure and memorable experiences are found in everyday life: the extraordinary is all around us.
- » We live boldly when we are aware of our fears and inhibitions, yet persevere to achieve goals despite these trepidations.
- » Find the things you can be excellent at and passionate about. Aim to become the best version of yourself: never stop learning.
- » Be objective and think rationally as you move through the world. Be a problem solver. Share your discoveries and ideas with others.
- » Have enthusiasm for both productive work and indulgent play. A practical approach balanced with a fun-loving attitude provides rewarding adventures throughout our lives.
- » We are all imaginative, creative and curious in our own ways. We are all explorers.
